Dear Applicant

Thank you very much for applying for the Support Worker position at Chrysalis.

Inside this application pack you will find your application form, a person specification and a job description.

The person specification tells you what qualities and attributes are essential if you are to become a support worker at Chrysalis and which are desirable. Desirable means they are not essential but it would be great if you had some of the things listed in the desirable column. Essential means that your skills, qualities etc must be able to match with what we are looking for in the essential column.

The job description outlines what the Support Worker role itself will include.

Read both these documents carefully as they will describe what kind of person we are looking for. You can then go on to tell us about yourself in the application form knowing what the job entails and what kind of personal skills are required.

Questions about the application pack:

If you have any questions about the job description, person specification or the your application form please contact Lisa Wallace by telephone 016973 44751 or e-mail info@chrysalis-cumbria.co.uk

Questions about the support worker job:
